

CAMPERS CHATTER

De Breede Smal, Rawsonville
29 April to 2 May 2022

Thank you Rina for the camp report.

Campers: Martin & Annette, Helen, Zorba & Anel, Trevor & Sandy, Greg & Glynn, Carrie & Zarin & friend, Craig & Rina
Guests: Andy & Sandy & Grant & Julia, Marius & Phoebe, Koula, Jess

Saturday morning up and left home after 7am. Traffic a pleasure

Martin are you having a cooling off dip or warming the water??

At least everyone had river facing sites and could take up as much space as they needed as sites not marked. Lovely rustic spacious ablutions

Nice to have a deep river in Rawsonville where you could have a decent swim and enjoy other water activities

And of course the camp entertainer

Wonder what topics of discussion have been around this interesting tree?

This high quality flat pack organizer is apparently 15+ years old and still looks good

I guess the pressure was too much so was left behind for the next user.

Helen arranged for interested peeps to play a game called Code Names. Seems some enjoyed playing while others not. Putting on thinking caps whilst drinking and camping can be tiresome lol!!

Grant who is Andy's son put bait on his rod and cast into the river leaving a neighbor babysitting whilst he visits wine farms. The 1st catch of the day with the said neighbor reeling in the catch and proud daddy Andy showing off the Carp.

Mr Wilson cast out BIGGER bait and waited patiently for his catch which turned out to be his biggest Carp ever.

WOW Craigy it's sooo BIG!!

Big smiles with Breede Smal now being the most favored campsite.

A gentle attempt to return the Carp to the river brought on a surprise when the fisherman ended up in a hole and well almost had a swim with his clothes on Ginger's replacement for Sunday Chairman's chat.

Ginger we missed you and Ruth and were a bit shocked at your untidy punk replacement, but she delivered the message and did a good job.
Missed Johnny and Sandy but did enjoyed not having any fines lolll!

En-route home top of Du Toits Kloof pass,
some entertainment

And now we look forward to Ganzekraal
for the next camp
